Revision: 2

The board may, at any time review an offender's periodic detention. After conducting such a review the board may do 1 or more of the following:

- take no further action;
- give the chief executive directions about the offender's supervision;
- change the offender's periodic detention obligations by imposing an additional condition on, or amending a condition of, the offender's periodic detention;
- give the offender approval not to perform periodic detention for up to 8 detention periods if satisfied that is appropriate having regard to the offender's health or any exceptional circumstances;
- cancel the offender's periodic detention;
- refer the offender to the offender's sentencing court to be dealt with under section 82A (Re-sentencing offender etc-referral to court).
